Claims Rejected

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter that applicant regards as his invention. In claim 1, "the reducing valve" lacks an antecedent. In claim 3, "the regulator valve" lacks an antecedent. In claim 4, "the first and second fail safe valves" lacks antecedents. In claim 6, "the switch valve" lacks an antecedent. In claim 7, "the switch valve" lacks an antecedent. In claim 8 "the first fail safe valve" lacks an antecedent. In claim 9, "the second fail safe valve" lacks an antecedent. It is not possible to indicate whether or not the subject matter of these claims is allowable until corrections to the claims are made to over this rejection.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Jang '220 and Ryu '818. Jang shows a hydraulic control system for an automatic transmission wherein a launch portion A, a line pressure control portion 2, 4, and 14, a shift portion 28, 40, 42, 44, and 46, a pressure reduction portion 6, and a fail safe portion 86 are provided. Ryu shows a similar arrangement as Jang, with a launch portion CS, 27, 19, a line pressure portion 3, 7, a pressure reduction portion LS, a shift portion S1-S5, and 11, and a fail safe portion 71, 63, 65, 67 and 69.

Art Unit: 3681

Prior Art Discussed

Jang '926 shows a hydraulic control system for an automatic transmission that is very similar to applicants except for the fact that there are only three shift valves S1-S3, and it does not appear to have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Jang to have the required four valves.
